

Building a High Performance Learning Culture for the 21st Century

What if all your leaders, teachers and support staff members were outstanding in everything they did? How might it effect motivation, learning and results?

What if you could align your vision, values, goals and action to achieve exceptional sustainable performance?

Developing Potential has a background in supporting organisations and teams to achieve success in Education, Business and Sport.

Our approach is different as we support whole school development rather than providing one off training events. We specialise in supporting you to develop and sustain outstanding performance through inspiring and engaging your whole team and catering for your needs with a longer-term plan.

We understand the current financial environment and our focus is on helping make sure that whatever money you will spend brings the greatest possible return and underpins the school vision and plans.

This is what Derek People, Headteacher at Park House Academy, Newbury has to say

“I have worked with Developing Potential for the last year and they have more than surpassed my expectations.

As a new academy our vision is to ensure that leadership and coaching are at the heart of our ethos.

After an initial review we agreed a long term plan and so far we have had Senior Leadership Team training, one to one coaching, the development of learning coaches, support at governors meetings and much more. The feedback from staff and governors has been outstanding.

I am very excited in continuing our journey in partnership with Developing Potential and would recommend that you have a conversation with them if your goal is delivering and sustaining outstanding performance”.
